She was aided by her husband who kept track of the number of strokes she took in the 11-mile journey down the stream and through a forest before finally reaching the green in just under two hours.

The Picks

Philadelphia — 24
Tampa Bay — 10

Years ago Tampa Bay was equal with the Eagles. Eagles are a class ahead in Tampa Bay's territory.

Pittsburgh — 21
Houston — 20

A two-up, big, well-give it to Steelers because of home field advantage.

Atlanta Falcons — 33
New York Giants — 14

Atlanta has to turn the rookies on to win the NFC West. Giants happen to be in their way.

Penn State — 30
West Virginia — 13

Curt Warner is a West Virginia resident, but Penn State won't show any mercy for Curt's home state.

Pitt — 27
Syracuse — 14

The passing of Marino over the rushing of Morris.

Carbondale Area — 25
Wallenpaupack Area — 13

Another win for the Chargers.

Western Wayne — 28
West Side Tech — 14

This is Tech's best team in years, but not good enough to beat the Wildcats.

Lakeland — 21
Dunmore — 20

Lakeland gave Dunmore a lesson in football last year. Dunmore will keep it closer this year.

John Rolka selected for Blue Chip publication

The Blue Chip Athlete, a publication of "Blue Chip" athletes throughout the country, has selected John Rolka, an offensive and defensive tackle of the Lakeland Chiefs to be included in its selective compilation of superior athletes.

Published in Norman, Okla., this magazine is designed to provide exposure of outstanding football candidates to colleges in the United States.

Rolka, 6-foot-2, 255 pounds, serves as one of the captains of the Chiefs varsity football team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rolka, RD1, Olyphant.

Several colleges including Penn State, Syracuse, Boston College, University of Virginia and West Virginia have already expressed an interest in signing him.

Chargers win 33-16 over West Side Tech

Judging by the first half score, it would seem as though the Carbondale Area Chargers-West Side Tech game were close.

But that was not the case Saturday as the Chargers raced away with the contest — 33-16 — after holding a slim 6-0 first half lead.

Dave Pettinare scored the only touchdown of the first half when he scored from eight yards out.

The extra point failed but the Chargers held a first quarter 6-0 lead which held throughout the game.

The Chargers scored in the third quarter as the result of a West Side fumble which John Mura recovered at the 10.

J.R. Mazza three plays later carried the ball in from the three.

The Chargers added another TD in the period when another West Side fumble gave the ball at the Carbondale 48. A penalty moved the ball back to the 37 but four plays later those 63 yards were marched off for the score.

Capping the score was Pettinato who ran the final five yards. Jeff Lesinski added two extra points on a run.

Thus the Chargers led 20-0 at the end of three quarters.

In the fourth quarter, Mazza added another touchdown to his afternoon's total by crossing the goal line from eight yards away.

The next touchdown was West Side Tech's on a 76-yard pass play.

John Waller added the Chargers final TD of the afternoon at Pringle by scoring from the three.

West Side scored its second and final touchdown of the day to close out the afternoon's scoring parade.

Niemotka rolls top scores

In Tuesday Night Early Birds action, Northeast Vending and Alexander's Sav-An each won three games, while Larry's Market took two.

Northeast Vending howled the top team scores with an 874 and 2256. Joann Niemotka howled the individual high scores with a 255 single and 571 series.

Other fine scores: Niemotka, 178, Kim Aston, 197, 176; Betty Tucker, 194; Cheryl Weaver, 180, 169, 153; Debra Wilson, 145, 166, 167; Karen Carachilo, 148; Sharon Bork, 141, 161; Judy Stephens, 151, 178; Carla Mussari, 174; Dawn Arthur, 150; Mary Lou Eimers, 145, 155; Peggy Morcum, 161; Shurmon Twardzik, 171; Margaret Swingle, 152, 144; Kay Jerin, 158, 147; Kay Homish, 154; Irene Fedorchak, 155.

Chiefs go to 6-0 via 20-8 win Friday

The Lakeland Chiefs raised their record to 6-0 on the season by defeating Big 11 Conference foe Scranton Central 20-8 Friday night at Scranton Memorial Stadium.

The Chiefs and Eagles played a scoreless first quarter.

Central had the ball in the second quarter when Lakeland's defense took advantage of an Eagle miscue and turned the mistake into the first score of the evening.

A handoff which went bad allowed the Chiefs' Steve Domunoski to pick up the loose Central ball and race 75 yards to the score.

The kick was no good, but Lakeland led 6-0.

With the first half ending, Lakeland shut down Central and took over the ball near the midfield stripe.

The Chiefs wasted no time in moving the ball and Tony Todi finished the drive by going in from the two.

This time the two-point conversion try failed, but the Chiefs held a 12-0 lead.

It was Keith Schweppenheiser's turn to get on the scoring as the quarterback tossed a 26-yard pass to Chris Chaves for the first score of the second half.

This time the Chiefs converted a two-point conversion when Schweppenheiser carried the ball in.

That made it 20-0.

The Eagles finally put some points on the scoreboard in the final stanza when Joe Granbo tossed the ball to Hellard for a 36-yard pass.

Fifth Quarter — Central had 11 first downs to Lakeland's nine. Central also outrushed the Chiefs 171 yards to 145 yards. Lakeland had 14 more yards in the air 80-36.

Honesdale downs Wildcats Friday

The Western Wayne Wildcats scored the first touchdown of the afternoon against Honesdale, but it was not enough as Honesdale downed the Wildcats 23-14 Friday night.

Wes Simons scored the Wildcats TD in the first quarter on a 23-yard run.

That gave the Western Wayne team a 6-0 lead.

However, Honesdale's Langendoerfer put the next three scores on the board via a one-yard run, a 28-yard field goal, and 33-yard run.

Simons scored again in the third on a one-yard run.

But that wasn't enough.

Langendoerfer scored again on a 25-yard run.

YMCA notes and news

Due to the overwhelming response to the Extra-cise class held at the Carbondale YMCA, the class will be expanded to include a short lecture series as an aid to dieting.

The Extra-cise class is open to any woman who is at least 15 pounds over weight and wishes to get back into condition. At the conclusion of each class the dieting tips section will begin. It will feature low-calorie recipe-exchanging, tasting parties, proper nutritional meal planning, etc.

The Extra-cise class is a continuous program, instructed by Diane Kurlansky, which meets every Monday evening at 7 p.m. The class will be conducted on a drop-in basis, therefore no pre-registration is necessary. The combination of exercise and diet tips will be a healthy approach to weight control and weight loss.

The Carbondale YMCA is now in the process of forming a Touch Football League for boys in grade school on Monday and Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Any boys interested in joining the league should stop in the Y Building, 82 N. Main St., and sign up. Players will be put on a team by Bob Stever, physical director. There is no cost other than a membership.

The opening of the YMCA Pre-School Play Center has been delayed. The center was scheduled to open Monday, Oct. 12, however, there have been delays in the construction of the building, forcing the postponement. Reorganization of the center's staff also accounts for the delay.

Those people who have enrolled their children in the day care center will be informed as to the opening date. The YMCA regrets any inconvenience the delay may cause.

The Y is running a class in racquetball for women on Tuesdays at 8:30 p.m.

Bob Stever, physical director, will instruct the class. The class will feature serving, rules of the game, court position, and games.

After the women have been playing, there include the basics in tumbling, balance beam, and uneven bars.

The class is limited to 10 children so be sure to stop into the Y and sign up at 82 N. Main St., Carbondale, or call 282-2210 for more information.

The Y will hold another Kinder-gym class under the direction of Bob Stever, physical director.

The class meets Mondays and Wednesdays, at 1 p.m. and runs for five weeks. The children will be taught how to use their motor muscles (arms, legs) running, throwing, catching, and how to play with other children as a team.

There will also be tumbling, climbing work on the balance beam and trampoline.

The class is limited, so be sure to go into the Y and register.

The YMCA of Carbondale is attempting to offer a variety of programs, both physical and non-physical in nature.

In order to accomplish this, the services of the community residents with specialized skills are needed. Some of the non-physical areas include photography, cooking, art, calligraphy, knitting, bridge, etc.

If you have a special skill that you would like to share with others (and earn a few extra dollars at the same time), contact the YMCA office at 282-2210.

The Carbondale YMCA under the direction of Robert Stever, physical director, will hold a meeting of all persons interested in helping out either coaching or refereeing in its youth grade school basketball league on tuesday, Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

Due to the large number of children that will be participating in the program there is a need for 15 or 20 people to help out.

If you are interested in participating, Please call Bob Stever at 282-2210 or stop in at the YMCA building at 82 N. Main St., and give your name and phone number.

More information on any of these programs can be had by cailling the Y at 282-2210.

Area residents on Keystone teams

Several students from the area are giving the Keystone Junior College soccer and girls' field hockey teams help during this fall's seasons.

Tom Kubus from Forest City is looked upon to fulfill the soccer team's goaltending needs.

The freshman is 5-foot-8, 158 pounds and coach Dennis Mishko says, "Tom is big, strong and knowledgeable, and should also do a good job."

The 5-foot-11, 160-pound freshman played under coach Paul Candelori at Mountain View.

Tracy, 5-foot-8, 160 pounds, is another freshman on the Keystone team.

Two former Mountain View High School players are also on the junior college team this year: Doug Todd, a striker, and Larry Tracy, a midfielder.

Mishko says of Todd: "Big, strong, aggressive, all-star selection, hard shot, hard-nosed, competitor, never say die."

The 5-foot-11, 160-pound freshman played under coach Paul Candelori at Mountain View.

Tracy, 5-foot-8, 160 pounds, is another freshman on the Keystone team.

"Very aggressive, strong tackler, always hustles, will run forever," Mishko notes of the Mountain View grad who also played under Candelori.

On the distaff side, Gloria Wheatley of Mountain View High School is playing for coach Marge Phillbin's field hockey team.

The 5-foot-4 offensive player has "good timing, (is a) good offensive player," according to her coach.

At Mountain View she played under coach Ted Calabro.

Jermyn's zoning board slates meeting to discuss appeal

A meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals of Jermyn Borough has been scheduled for 7:30, Wednesday, Oct. 21 in the Jermyn Community Center, Jefferson Avenue, according to a borough spokesman.

The board is expected to discuss an appeal brought by Attorney Albert E. Nicholls, Jr., and his wife, Catherine, 433 Washington Ave., Jermyn, with reference to a permit for special use issued to Allied Services for the Handicapped, Inc., 475 Morgan Highway Scranton. Allied is reportedly using the former Jermyn Community House, 438 Washington Ave., which it purchased last spring, for a residence for ten of its patients.

The Zoning Board is composed of Richard J. Marian, chairman; Frank Girumm and Robert E. Jones. The latter was appointed last month after Attorney Nicholls threatened Jermyn Council with a mandamus action, which would force them to appoint a third member to the board. The post had been vacant since Nicholls himself resigned from the board, after Allied Services occupied the structure late in the spring of 1981.

The building at issue was purchased at nominal cost by the borough of Jermyn from the Winter estate in 1942, for use as a community house. Meeting rooms, police headquarters and a basement lock-up were included in the structure.

Move to restrict parking tabled by city council

Restricting parking on both sides of Dundaff Street was not well received by city council Monday night.

The solons heard managing director Martin P. Judge ask for an ordinance to forbid parking on either side of the main West Side thoroughfare, but tabled the motion instead of acting upon it.

Judge had asked for an emergency ordinance on the matter.

The city's managing director told the solons that he had just that day learned that such an ordinance was needed.

The administrator said he learned of its need while taking part in a semi-final inspection of the recently reconstructed Dundaff Street.

The first to exception to Judge's request was Councilman Michael Tolerico who asked, "I wonder how much inconvenience it is for the people of Dundaff Street."

Tolerico also wondered why council was not informed of the state-mandated restriction prior to the reconstruction of the street.

Councilwoman Charlotte Moro added, "I predicted this a month ago."

The solons quizzed Judge as to whether the parking restriction had to be or if it were just a suggestion made by the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) which carried out the federal highways project.

Judge, noting he would have to check on that, said he would report back to council with the answer.

Flowers in the store

Flowers are now legally allowed on city stores and restaurants which handle or sell unprepared foods.

Up until last week when council hastily passed an emergency ordinance, this was not allowed under Title of Council No. 4, 1935, which prohibited decorative plants on such premises.

Monday night the solons passed a permanent law allowing it.

Council also okayed the restricting of parking on Forty-second Street for a short distance from Dundaff Street.

It was explained that this law will allow more room for truck traffic which now travels over the route due to a weight restriction on the Dundaff Street Viaduct.

The law will be null and void once the viaduct is torn down next year.

Boards filled

The Council approved several appointments and reappointments made to city boards Monday night.

The appointments were made by Mayor Fred J. Mancuso and needed council's approval.

Appointed to the Carbondale Housing Authority were Vivian Kohut and Anthony Maloy.

Reappointed to the Carbondale Recreation Commission were Donald Hoyle and Dr. Gerald Salko.

Appointed to that board were Thomas Luzzo and Patrick Whittington, Jr.

Before council unanimously approved the appointments and reappointments, Councilman Albert Calvelo objected to the timing of the Mayor's request that it came just before election.

Councilwoman Charlotte Moro sought the advice of the city solicitor Atty. John Cerra to see if the mayor could name people to the boards several months in advance of terms expiring, filling those terms upon expiration.

He replied that the move could have waited, but he could see no legal reason why it couldn't be made ahead of time.

Street dedication

Council will act soon upon the dedication of two city streets.

At Monday night's session, the solons heard a request from the Carbondale Housing Authority that it dedicate Russell Place and Russell Street, both within the Russell Parking Housing Project.

"It's to our benefit to dedicate them," Councilman Michael Tolerico told his fellow solons, since the city is already taking care of them and they are not included on liquid fuels fund streets.
